Are Your compliance up-to-date?

Have you ever been in doubt – just a little...

In the Marine Industry we are faced with the overwhelming task of creating an overview of all relevant rules and regulations on a regular basis. Maybe you already have the rules in-house, but are they up-to-date?

A one-stop-shop for Marine rules and regulations

The purpose of the Web Portal is to help the Marine Industry companies save time and resources by making all marine rules and regulations available in a portal. The Dancompliance Web Portal gives users access to rules and regulations library, search functionality, regulatory alerts and reports in an easy to use layout and accessible via a browser. Now You have the option of searching for ALL marine regulatory information in one place.
